Project and Document Comments

Department	Comment ID	Sheet	Reviewer	Comment	Comment Response
DPR Urban Forestry	DPR-UF-1		MGILDEA	20" dbh (diameter breast height) sweetgum tree has healthy roots, trunk, and branches. Tree has some sapsucker damage but this generally is not a concern. Tree is in conflict with the roof edge. It is in a tight gap and the shed appears to have been built around the tree. See photo uploaded by UF.

				If the tree were to be removed, there is limited area to plant a new canopy tree due to existing hardscape. See plat for small open area in back yard. There is a tree along the wall on the back property line and this tree has canopy over the small area.
