Good Morning,

In late March 2022, The N. Ohio Street Safety Improvements Project team held a virtual public engagement opportunity to provide an update on the status of the project. During the engagement opportunity, the project team discussed a revised concept design which showed an improved trail connection on the east side of the intersection at 12th Road N and N. Ohio Street. The updated concept design also showed new improvements to the intersection at 12th Road N and 11th Road N. The updated concept design discussed during the March meeting can be found at the link below.

Since late Spring the project team has been advancing the concept design through the preliminary design phase. Recently, the project team began final design efforts which will focus on the preparation of developing plans suitable for construction. It is currently projected that final design approval will occur in October 2023, with construction starting in Spring 2024. This timeline differs from previous schedule projections due to the additional time needed to finalize the new trail connections and improvements to the 12th Road N/11th Road N intersection. An updated schedule of key project milestones can be found below.

Final Design Begins – November 2022

Final Design Approval – October 2023

Construction Start – April 2024

Construction Complete – October 2024

Thank you for your interest in this project and do not hesitate to reach out if there are any additional questions.
