

Numerous members of the TJWG expressed concern that building a new elementary school now would limit options for the eventual replacement of TJ (although that wouldn't occur for 30 or 40 years). The following four theoretical concepts were drawn to address this concern. These are not proposals, only exercises in future possibilities.

Numerous members of the TJWG expressed concern that building a new elementary school now would limit options for the eventual replacement of TJ (although that wouldn't occur for 30 or 40 years). This theoretical concept was drawn to address this concern. This is not a proposal, only an exercise in future possibilities.

2.1

Numerous members of the TJWG expressed concern that building a new elementary school now would limit options for the eventual replacement of TJ (although that wouldn't occur for 30 or 40 years). This theoretical concept was drawn to address this concern. This is not a proposal, only an exercise in future possibilities.

2.2

Numerous members of the TJWG expressed concern that building a new elementary school now would limit options for the eventual replacement of TJ (although that wouldn't occur for 30 or 40 years). This theoretical concept was drawn to address this concern. This is not a proposal, only an exercise in future possibilities.

2.3

Numerous members of the TJWG expressed concern that building a new elementary school now would limit options for the eventual replacement of TJ (although that wouldn't occur for 30 or 40 years). This theoretical concept was drawn to address this concern. This is not a proposal, only an exercise in future possibilities.

2.4

